The Georgia State University

2016-2017

Student Government Association

Presidential Candidates
Eugene Butler

I have advocated for student life within my 2014-2016 tenure as an Executive Board member for Spotlight Programs Board. In the positions I have held, I have been able to demonstrate myself to be fiscally responsible for managing budgets ranging from $70,000 to $700,000. As President, I manage 13 Executive Board members and serve as a member of all of their committees, in which, they all focus on a distinctively different aspect of programming quite like the Cabinet and committees of SGA. During my tenure in Spotlight, we have had more collaborations, a greater representation of the student body as pertaining to diversity, and a higher implementation of students' request. I also have been a part of the Consolidation committee and other University-wide boards that advocate for the progression of the students. Other organizations and jobs such as Incept have also afforded me the experiences to witness firsthand the diversity we have on campus, gain knowledge about a plethora of resources available to students, and learn about the issues students face. I have an extensive and positive track record of being the leader who looks and asks what are the issues and putting in the work to provide solutions.

Adib Chowdury

I should be elected for this position because I have experience in many aspects of life. I work for my food, and I work for my livelihood. I am a hard worker who will never give up. I am highly empathetic, and social. I am outspoken, and I will voice my opinions in a respectable manner.

Fortune Onwuzuruike

I should be elected to this position because I am the best fit. I have shadowed past presidents since the 2013 administration. Over time, I have become a proficient in the inner workings of the Student Government Association. Although the Student Government structure is changing, the university needs a President that has worked with a large population and that has proper and quality Student Government Association experience. I have had the opportunity to hear feedback from students. The student body has the power to let their voices be heard. I am passionate about Georgia State University, and I am aiming to set our university apart on a national level. I want this institute to be the best it can be. The President is supposed to provide a sense of comfort to the university, which as Vice President of Student Services, I have been doing by completing everything on my platform halfway through the academic school year. In my experience one has to be personable and understanding, and I am both. This will not be easy year but I do promise positive RESULTS through the fearless leadership I will bring day in and day out.

Sri Rajasekaran

I am day one ready. I have the unmatched experience of serving as SGA President for two terms – which will help our SGA hit the road running and expand our potential. Especially considering the consolidation and that our student body is now over 50,000 strong - the SGA needs someone with experience, someone who is a team player, someone who the students and the administration can depend on, a person that would represent each and every one of our students and voice their concerns, and a person who will put 110% forward. My years in SGA and the work I have done stands as a living proof that I fit that description.

Considering my knowledge and understanding of the Perimeter College – the campus cultures and the student concerns – and my growing knowledge of the Atlanta campus – and my willingness and desire to learn and help others – plus my established relationship with the administration, my ability to delegate and work with a diverse group of people, and my love for Georgia State – a vote for me will be a vote for you and for a better and unified Georgia State.
